8. Internet Protocol & Cookies

- 8.1. We collect Internet Protocol (IP) addresses of all visitors to our site. An IP address is a number assigned to your computer automatically when you use the Internet. This information is only collected in aggregate (in other words, we are not able to monitor your individual usage of the site) and helps us monitor site traffic patterns and refine content based on Country of Origin in order to improve our service. Our site additionally uses cookies for some interactive features.
- 8.2. Our website uses cookies to distinguish you from other users of our website. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our website and also allows us to improve our site. By continuing to browse the site, you are agreeing to our use of cookies.
- 8.3. A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we store on your browser or the hard drive of your computer if you agree. Cookies contain information that is transferred to your computer's hard drive.
- 8.4. We use the following cookies:
- a) Strictly necessary cookies. These are cookies that are required for the operation of our website. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our website, use a shopping cart or make use of e-billing services.
 - b) Analytical/performance cookies. They allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our website when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily.
 - c) Functionality cookies. These are used to recognise you when you return to our website. This enables us to personalise our content for you, greet you by name and remember your preferences (for example, your choice of language or region).
- 8.5. Please note that third parties (including, for example, advertising networks and providers of external services like web traffic analysis services) may also use cookies, over which we have no control. These cookies are likely to be analytical/performance cookies or targeting cookies.

- 8.6. Our website uses Google Analytics, a web traffic analysis service provided by Google Inc. ("Google"). Please refer to <http://www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners> to find out more about how Google uses data when you use our website and how to control the information sent to Google.
- 8.7. You block cookies by activating the setting on your browser that allows you to refuse the setting of all or some cookies. However, if you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies) you may not be able to access all or parts of our site.
- 8.8. Furthermore, you can prevent Google's collection and processing of data by using the Google Ads Settings page or downloading and installing their browser plug-in (<https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>).

9. Security

- 9.1. All information you provide to us is stored on our secure servers. Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password, which enables you to access certain parts of our site, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. We ask you not to share a password with anyone. Please be sure to sign off when you finished using our Services on a shared computer.
- 9.2. Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the Internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal data, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted to our site; any transmission is at your own risk and you agree not to hold us responsible for any breach of security while accessing the Internet that is out of our control. Once we have received your information, we will use strict procedures and security features to try to prevent unauthorised access.

10. Third party websites

Our website may contain links to other sites ("Linked Sites"). We are not responsible for the privacy policies or practices of such other Linked Sites. We encourage our Users to be aware when leaving our website to read the privacy policies or statements of each Linked Site that collects your personal data. You agree to waive any claim against us with respect to the Linked Sites.

11. Changes to our Privacy Policy

Any changes we may make to our Privacy Policy in the future will be posted on this page and, where appropriate, we will update you on the changes of our Privacy Policy by email. Your continued use of our Services constitutes your agreement to this Privacy Policy and any updates.

12. Data transfers

We may hold your data on servers in Singapore, Hong Kong, Malaysia and any other territories as we see fit from time to time. We may also transfer your data to our overseas offices or to any people listed at clause 6.1 above, who may be located in or outside of Singapore.

13. Facebook Connect:

If you create a user account with SimplyGiving using Facebook Connect, you give permission for SimplyGiving to post your personal fundraising and donation activity to your wall. However, you may adjust these settings via Facebook.com. You also authorise SimplyGiving to download information including email address, name, address, and date of birth to assist in the creation of your SimplyGiving account.

14. Obligation to Provide Personal Data

14.1. We acknowledge that you have the right in deciding the information you wish to provide to us. The provision of the information listed above is voluntary in nature. However, please note that if you do not provide the information above or limit the way such information is to be processed, it may result in us not being able to:

- a) communicate or correspond with you;
- b) undertake the engagement or complete transaction and/or provide our Services to you; and/or
- c) grant you access to our Services.

15. Your consent and rights

15.1. By using our service, making an application or visiting our website, you consent to the collection, use and processing of your personal data and other activities as outlined in this Statement.

15.2. If you so wish to do so, you have the right:

- a) to check whether we hold personal data about you and to access such data;
- b) to require us to correct or update as soon as reasonably practicable any data relating to you which is inaccurate or omitted;
- c) to ascertain our policies and practices in relation to personal data and the kind of personal data held by us; and/or
- d) to withdraw your consent or limit the use of your personal data;
- e) to object to the use of your personal data for marketing purposes and we shall not use your personal data for marketing purposes after you communicate your objection to us.

15.3. You may exercise your opt-out right by notifying us if you wish to object to the use of your personal data for direct marketing purposes. Please send requests for such objections, access to data, correction of data, information regarding policies and practices and kinds of data held, questions or complaints to:

15.4. In accordance with the applicable local laws and/or policies, we reserve the right to and may charge a minimum fee for processing any data access request.

16. Disclaimer

16.1. The accuracy and completeness of your personal data depends on the information you provide. We assume that the information you have provided is accurate, up to date and complete unless you inform us otherwise

16.2. Where you provide any third party information to us, it is our assumption that such information is accurate, up to date and complete and that you have obtained the necessary consent to disclose the same.

16.3. Where you have consented or allowed us to disclosed personal data to third party and/or other User when using our Services, you understand that SimplyGiving no longer has any control or authority as to how the said third part and/or other User will use or process the personal data. Therefore, you agree that SimplyGiving will not be responsible for the subsequent use of your personal data by the third party or other User. If you wish to stop them from further using your personal data, please contact them directly.

17. Governing law and jurisdiction

Nothing in this Statement shall limit your right under applicable local privacy law. This Privacy Policy Statement shall be governed by the laws of Singapore. You agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Singapore courts.

18. Languages

This agreement is drafted in the English language. If this agreement is translated into any other language, the English language version shall prevail.
